Commuters Make Progress At Birmingham

Three Mayors, John Scaife, of Bay St. Louis, Garfield Ladner, Waveland, and Laz Quave, Biloxi, with Rudolph Vorbusch, Attorney, President of the Gulf Coast Commuters Organization, scored an important round in the battle with the L. & N. Railroad on proposed discontinuance of commuter train service, when they met last Thursday with L. & N. President, John E. Tilford, in Birmingham, Ala.

Mayor Scaife acted as spokesman for the Coast municipalities with Vorbusch representing passengers using this service of the railroad.

It was agreed at the meeting that the trains would continue to operate and the Railroad would study ways and means of continuing this service. After careful study and with the cooperation of those interested in continuing this service by giving earnest efforts to increase the number of passengers, a raise in rates, if any, to be appropriated in covering the out of pocket costs of performing this service by the Company.

The following letter written by Tilford, the day after the meeting in Birmingham, and sent to each of the four Coast delegates, has been released by Mayor Scaife, in order that the people of this county and the coast could be made fully aware of its contents and familiarize themselves with the true status of the situation:

Birmingham, Oct. 11, 1957

Mayor John A. Scaife,
Bay St. Louis,
Mayor Laz Quave, Biloxi,
Mayor Garfield Ladner, Waveland,
Mr. Rudolph Vorbusch, Attorney,
Gentlemen:

Referring to our conference yesterday at which there was a frank and rather complete discussion of the problems involved in the operation of the commuter train service between New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast:

You will recall that after discussing the pros and cons our conclusions for a further consideration of the matter were summarized as follows:

1. Consideration would be given to ways and means of reducing the cost of the train operation. Two possibilities were mentioned, only discontinuing the operation of the train on Saturdays, and two, discontinuance of operation of the train between Biloxi and Ocean Springs; continuation will be to these two features and any others that the committee or we can develop.
2. We will closely examine the items and the accounting upon which we have based the cost of the operation of the commuter trains. In discussing this feature the committee conceded that the following costs should be charged to these particular trains:

- a. Wages of the crew (this would also include payroll taxes which the Company must pay for each of the employees for railroad retirement and unemployment insurance.)
- b. Fuel and lubrication.
- c. Cost of maintaining (including cleaning) of the cars and locomotives and furnishing train supplies.
- d. Terminal costs for operation of the train into and out of the terminal at New Orleans, proportioned to this train.
- e. The committee and their associates who desire this commuter train service continued will make an earnest effort to increase the number of passengers using the train, at least up to the capacity of the three coaches now in service. The number of passengers using this train in 1956 was slightly more than 51,000. In 1954 the number of passengers was 59,000 in 1953—68,957 and in 1952—76,000.
- f. The committee thought the travel could be increased to approximately 60,000 per annum which would be a few more than used the service in 1954. To aid in this effort the committee suggested that the Company advertise the service in the local papers promoting the use of this train. We will, after consideration of the several features above described, suggest what increase, if any, would be appropriate in the commuter fares to cover the out of pocket cost of performing the service, all other costs to be borne by the Company. We are hoping good will in the commuter service will be the result.

I appreciate very much the committee coming to Birmingham to discuss this subject with us and the businesslike approach to the several difficult questions involved. So soon as we have had an opportunity to review the matter we will advise the committee of our tentative conclusions and there will be further conferences with the committee if that appears to be necessary.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) J. E. TILFORD, President

Commuters and Coast municipalities have been working tirelessly throughout the entire summer to forestall the removal of the L. & N. commuter service which is a main artery in bringing life blood to this coastal area.

MRS. McDONALD GIVES PROGRAM ON LEGISLATION

Mrs. C. C. McDonald, Bay St. Louis, a past president of the state Congress of Parents and Teachers Associations, presented a program on PTA-sponsored state legislation at the fall meeting of District 14 at the Community house in Ocean Springs earlier this week.

Mrs. McDonald, who is president of the Liveoak Girl Scout Council and a member of the Hancock County School board, told the group that the legislation platform being recommended by the state PTA for 1958 has seven divisions; premarital legislation, education legislation, child labor, sale of fireworks, juvenile protection, children's code commission, and library services legislation.

She emphasized two items under the education legislation; first the extension of the minimum foundation program to include a compulsory state-wide nine months school program.

At the present, she pointed out 40 per cent of all children in the state have only eight months of school; those having nine months are financed by the local community for the extra month. If the requirement of nine-months was made, statewide, Mrs. McDonald said, the state would help finance the entire nine months.

This would provide additional monies which could be utilized in higher salaries and better facilities, improving the local schools, she stated.

A second part of the education program stressed by Mrs. McDonald, was a salary scale for teachers that would put the state on a competitive basis with surrounding states, thereby insuring for Mississippi school children the quality of instruction to which they are entitled," she said.

National average for teachers salaries is $4,200, she said. The average in 15 southern states is $3,336, and Miss. ranks 48th with an average of $2,442. Mrs. McDonald said.

"Perhaps the most important problem facing public school education is that of providing for every classroom in the state a well qualified, dedicated teacher," she declared. "Salary is the largest factor effecting our production at this time."

No Trace Of Couple Lost In Plane

A telephone conversation this morning with a member of the family of Larry Reid, 25, Pass Christian, pilot of a plane, missing since Saturday, and carrying his friend Miss Mary Catherine Finch, also of Pass Christian, and enroute to Montgomery, Ala., informed this paper that no further trace of the missing couple or of the plane had been brought to light.

Mrs. Oscar Reid, mother of the missing pilot, was Miss Margaret Kachler, a former Bay St. Louis resident.

The plane carrying the two young people disappeared Saturday about 7 p. m. after radioing the Evergreen, Ala., station for a weather reading. They talked for about twenty minutes the station reported but were not heard from after that. Evergreen is about half way between Mobile and Montgomery.

Hope grew stronger the early part of the week for the young couple, as word came through that the search had been narrowed to a small swampy area in which another flyer had recently survived five days before rescuers found him.

Larry's brother, Edward went to Evergreen where he joined in the search for Larry and Miss Finch. Today searchers were no nearer finding the pair than earlier in the week.

Miss Finch's mother, Mrs. Mary Freeman of Montgomery advised she felt there was little chance the couple had gone elsewhere as her daughter kept her informed on her whereabouts, when she would be late and whenever she changed plans.

S. S. C. HOMECOMING DAY HELD SUNDAY; BRILLIANT AFFAIR

St. Stanislaus celebrated Homecoming Day last Sunday in most brilliant sunshine. Nicholls High of New Orleans proved a worthy substitute for the Notre Dame Rebels who were unable to come to the Bay because of an epidemic of the flu among the players. Stanislaus took the long end of the score 18 to 0.

Abelardo Caceres scored by going through the line for some 34 yards in the second quarter. Joe Lolacano scored twice, once in the 3rd and again in the fourth quarters. On his first trek he scored from the 17 on a pass, and his second was taken on a line plunge.

Brother Philip put on a very nice show at the half. He had specimens of automobiles dating from 1900 in line to show the advance made in transportation down to the modern convertible.

Miss Anne Blanchard reigned as Queen of the Homecoming. She and her maids occupied a prominent place near the fifty yard stripe.

Prize winners for the Raffle sponsored by the Sidelines Club were as follows:

Deep freeze unit, Mr. John Auder, Waveland; 2nd Prize, Mrs. Claude Monti, local; 3rd Prize, Mrs. C. S. Upton, New Orleans; 4th Prize, Mrs. Geo. C. Battalora, local; 5th Prize, A. J. Frey, Jr., Waveland; 6th Prize, Mr. J. E. Adkinson, local; and 7th, Jack French, Pass Christian, Miss.

The day ended with the annual Homecoming Dance held in the gym. Music was furnished by the Claudettes.

Winona Girl, "Queen of the Forest"

Jackson, Miss.—A lovely Winona High School brunette was crowned here Friday as the 1958 State "Queen of the Forest" by U. S. Senator John C. Stennis in ceremonies held in front of the Governor's Mansion, climaxing the colorful FOREST AND FOREST PRODUCTS parade. She is Miss Jayne Vinson, 18-year-old daughter of Reverend and Mrs. H. B. Vinson.

Chosen as first alternate was Miss June Wood of Brookline. Other contestants, themselves district winners, were Miss Betty Ann Prisk of Tylertown, second alternate; Miss Linda Johnson of Baldwyn and Miss Linda Lackey of Forest.

The new Queen, who was sponsored by the Southern Home Demonstration Club, is 5 ft. 3 inches tall and weighs 119 pounds. Her measurements are 35-23-37. Upon graduation from High School Jayne is interested in following the dramatics field.

The FOREST AND FOREST PRODUCTS parade was sponsored by the Jackson Chamber of Commerce and the whole event conducted by the Miss. Forestry Commission, C. B. Martin, State Forester. Martin introduced Senator Stennis who spoke briefly concerning Mississippi forestry and emphasizing importance to the present forestry and future economy of the state.

Serving as master of ceremonies was Ed VanZandt, President of the Jackson Jaycees who, in addition to sponsoring the parade and Jackson event, presented the new Queen with a large loving cup.

All five contestants will be given a free ten day tour of Mississippi early next summer as a prize for having won district titles.

MISSISSIPPI LEADS SOUTH'S ROAD PROGRAM

Miss. is progressing ahead of the national average in work on the interstate highway system, U. S. Public Roads Commissioner C. D. Curtis said. Mississippi is already well into its fiscal year appropriation with 48 per cent of its federal money already obligated. Curtis contrasted this against the national average which shows 29 per cent of the 1958 appropriations have already been obligated. The South as a whole is still on its 1957 appropriation Curtis said.

Southern Bell T & T Company Has "Adventures in Telexonia"

With a record number of Bay St. Louis children using the telephone now, it's important that they learn to use it properly, according to J. C. Dabney, Southern Bell Manager.

Mr. Dabney said more than 40,000 Mississippi youngsters were taught proper use of the telephone during last year's school session by Southern Bell's "Adventures in Telexonia" program.

This program includes an 18-minute, full-color movie using puppets to demonstrate correct use of the telephone; a slide film, practice telephone; directories and instruction booklets.

Elementary school teachers present the program in the third, fourth, fifth or sixth grade. Results have been exceptional, with Telexonia-trained children using the phone with the skill of adults. Any teacher may make arrangements for the use of the Telexonia program by calling the local business office.

PINK BOLL WORM RID OF IN MISSISSIPPI

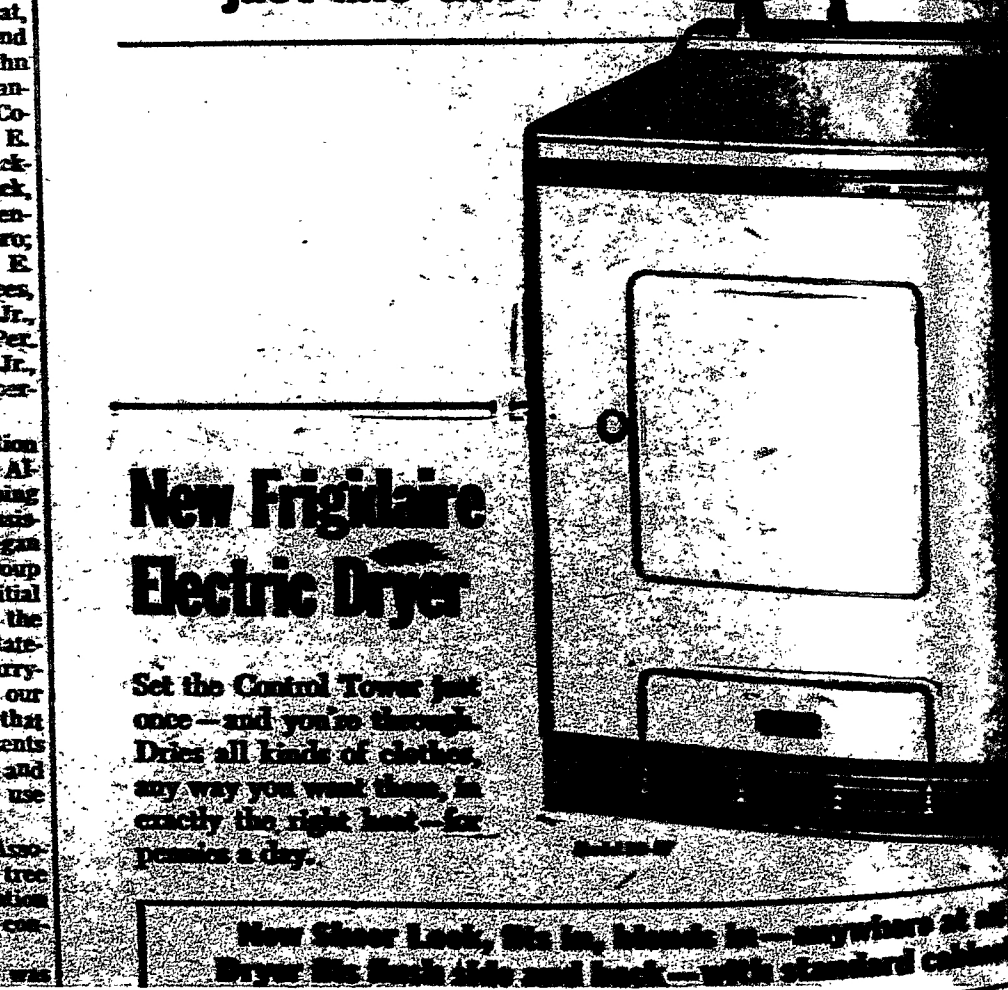

The State Department Board said it eradicated the state's first infestation of pink boll worm ever found in Mississippi. Dr. Ross E. Hutchins, executive officer of the board, said the infestation was in Wallhalla County. He theorized the worms may have been blown into Mississippi by hurricane Andrew earlier this year. The worms were found on two farms near the Louisiana border. Under board regulations, all standing cotton and okra are being destroyed, and go-rum cotton, cottonseed or okra are being allowed to leave the area. Every year, Miss. establishes quarantine stations at all points of entry into Miss. from Louisiana and Arkansas to prevent immigration of the dreaded cotton pest.

Mr. James T. Williams, who has been ill at his Carroll Avenue home since the latter part of September, is reported to be recovering slowly. Recent visitors to Mr. Williams were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dora Moore III, who are in the University of Mississippi in Jackson, October 17. The Chairman of the group's temporary Executive Committee, Gray Evans, of Gulfport, says Democrats between the ages of 18 and 40 are eligible for membership.

Mr. John Ryan was taken to Memorial Hospital, Gulfport this week, where she is scheduled to remain under treatment for the next four weeks.

Miss Shelby Weston returned to this country on the S. S. Queen Elizabeth, on Wednesday, after a tour of the European continent.

Plans for the organization were made and discussed over the dining table.

Boys present were Kenny Pepperdine, Bobby Van Calsem, Joe Edwards, Chuck Breaht, Chuck Langrand, Buddy Langrand, Chuck Wagner, Billy Sater, Jim Shadwick, Bill, Alfred and Dick Wits, Jack Husband, Norvin Pentose, Davis and Winston Levy, Sammy Allison and George Lehlitner, Jr.

As many investments lose their attractiveness Savings Bonds again attract more people. In September sales in the Nation of Series E and H Bonds amounted to $362,021,000 which exceeded sales of September a year ago by 8.1%.

Another noticeable indication is that larger denomination Bonds took a decided upward turn. The sales picture for Mississippi was not quite as good, however, the trend is upward. $1,555,961 were invested in Series E and H Savings Bonds for a total of $18,880,228 to September 10, 1957. Sales in Hancock County were $4,078.00 for a total of $25,447.00.

Young Demos Organize

Arrangements have been completed for the organization of the Young Democrats of Mississippi in Jackson, October 17. The Chairman of the group's temporary Executive Committee, Gray Evans, of Gulfport, says Democrats between the ages of 18 and 40 are eligible for membership.

The Young Democrats are organizing on the basis of a statement of principles which outlines their belief that the Democratic Party has been and is the only friend of Mississippi and the South on the national political scene; that disputes among party factions should be settled within the party; that affiliation with a third or splinter party would be disastrous for the state; and that the young people of Mississippi should take a more active part in state politics.

Evans says the Young Democrats expect to organize in every county. He says there are already organizations in Hinds and Jones Counties, at the University of Mississippi, Miss State, and Miss Southern, with others forming now in Lauderdale County and on the Coast.

The convention will convene at 2:30 p. m. in the Chamber of the House of Representatives.

ASIAN FLEU

Washington—Army medical researchers report that preliminary test results indicate the Asian flu vaccine is less effective than predicted.

The early stage findings were relayed to District of Columbia physicians in a scientific assembly yesterday over a closed-circuit television hookup from Walter Reed Army Institute of Research.

Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman, chief of the institute's department of respiratory diseases, said only one of the series of tests on which he reported showed an effective, more approaching the predicted 70 per cent. The others ranged down to less than 50 per cent.

Dr. Hilleman stressed that the results were evaluated on the basis of whether antibodies in the blood of patients rose to an arbitrarily chosen level after inoculation. Nobody, the physician said, yet knows the exact level of antibody concentration necessary to resist the virus of Asian flu.

Findings on that basis, Hilleman said, indicated only 46 per cent effectiveness among military recruits in California. Other trials by Public Health Service scientists he said, rated the vaccine at 50 percent, and studies at Ft. Dix, N. J., indicated results as good as 65 per cent.

On the same program L. Col. Christian Gronbeck, director of the Walter Reed division of medicine, cautioned against sending uncomplained Asian flu cases to hospitals. He said many of the 16 deaths attributed to Asian flu since the disease was introduced in this country in June were due to pus-forming germs—separate from the flu virus—apparently picked up in hospitals.

Hospitalization is in order, Gronbeck said, if the patient shows such danger signs as rising pulse rate and difficulty in breathing.
